

Vaccine hesitancy in healthcare students: what is the evidence and how to rethink educational approaches?

March 28, 2023 - 8:30-4:30pm
UFR Simone Veil - Santé

8:30 Welcome coffee

9:00 Opening session

- ▶ Loïc Josseran, Dean of the faculty UFR Simone Veil – Santé, University of Versailles St-Quentin
- ▶ Kristina Åkesson, Dean of the faculty of Medicine, Lund University
- ▶ Márta Széll, Vice-Rector for Strategic Planning, University of Szeged
- ▶ Josiane Warszawski, Graduate school of public health, University of Paris-Saclay
- ▶ Eric Cassan, EUGLOH Alliance, University of Paris-Saclay
- ▶ Marie Herr, Director of the Public health, prevention, observatory and territories department, UFR Simone Veil – Santé, University of Versailles St-Quentin

10:00-12:30 Panel session 1

Vaccine hesitancy in the healthcare environment: current evidences?

Chair: Louise Bennet (Lund University) and Elisabeth Delarocque-Astagneau (UVSQ)

- ▶ 10:00 | Difficult Conversations: A Talk on How to Meet Anti-Vaccine Opinions
Mia-Marie Hammarlin, fellow of The Birgit Rausing Centre for Medical Humanities, Lund University
- ▶ 10:25 | How to measure vaccine hesitancy, vaccine eagerness?
Judith Mueller, Institut Pasteur Paris; EHESP School of Public health
- ▶ 10:45 | COVID-19 Vaccine hesitancy in healthcare students
Domitille Luyt, University of Versailles St-Quentin

Legs stretch

- ▶ 11:00 | Vaccine coverage among healthcare workers, overview
Sophie Vaux, Santé publique France – the French Public health agency
- ▶ 11:20 | Gaining insight into social dimensions of COVID-19 vaccine hesitancy among caregivers
Frederic Pierru, CNRS & Ivan Sainsaulieu, Lille University
- ▶ 11:50 | Panel session 1 Q&A

Registration:

<https://tinyurl.com/eugloh>

2:00-4:30pm Panel session 2

Rethinking educational approaches to vaccine in healthcare students

Chair: Edit Paulik, University of Szeged and Aurélien Dinh, University of Versailles

▶ 2:00 | The need for interdisciplinary/interprofessionality: Health Students perspectives

Agathe Couchot, UFR Simone Veil – Santé, University of Versailles St-Quentin

▶ 2:20 | Education on vaccination: experiences from a US university

Bernice L Hausman, Pennstate college of medicine, Pennsylvania, US

Legs stretch

▶ 3:00 | The impact of information on vaccine hesitancy: from fake news to health literacy

Ilaria Montagni, Bordeaux University

▶ 3:25 | Innovation in training: contributions of simulation

Arnold Bosman, Pandemos, Netherlands

▶ 3:40 | Panel session 2 Q&A

Conclusion remarks

The European University Alliance for Global Health (EUGLOH) brings together nine universities from across Europe. With outstanding collective expertise, EUGLOH will build the European University of the future. This strategic partnership is composed by the Versailles St-Quentin Paris-Saclay University (UPSaclay), Lund University (LU), the University of Szeged (USZ), the University of Porto (UPorto) Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München (LMU), the University of Alcalá (UAH), Tromsø University - The Arctic University of Norway (UiT), the University of Novi Sad (UNS) and Universität Hamburg (UHH) in the context of the European Commission's European Universities Initiative.

UFR Simone Veil - Santé
CAMPUS DE SAINT-QUENTIN-EN-YVELINES

LUND
UNIVERSITY