Mary Ann Liebert, Inc. Announces Winners of RFS Awards in Science 2024

New Rochelle, NY, April 28, 2025—Mary Ann Liebert, Inc. proudly announces the recipients of the RFS Awards in Science 2024, recognizing outstanding peer-reviewed research by women and underrepresented minorities in STEM. To view the full list of winners, click here.

The RFS Awards in Science 2024 honor the best papers written in 2024 by a woman or underrepresented minority in science across Mary Ann Liebert, Inc.'s portfolio of peer-reviewed journals. The awards highlight the critical contributions of these researchers and reinforce the company's commitment to amplifying diverse voices in scientific discovery.

Each award recipient will receive a $1,000 cash prize and an official certificate. In addition, the winning papers will be made freely accessible for 90 days to maximize visibility and impact. Winners will also be featured across various public platforms, highlighting their contributions to their respective fields.

The selection process is led by Editors-in-Chief and editorial board members from the participating journals. Papers are nominated based on scientific excellence, originality, and impact, with final selections made by an academic committee. To view the full list of winners, click here.
